Is 2.5% of all revenues received by Legacy a reasonable amount of compensation? Costs incurred by LOegacy that will have an impact on those revenues toPoint are not clearly spelled out. Does Point have any control on how much is spent by Legacy to produce the film? Do costs include all the salaries of those involved? How does this relate to the 15% commission? Says later that Legacy shall bear all costs of develping, producing and distributing all productions produced "hereunder." Clarify.

income stream not limited

4.2 page 3: Point has right to grant all rights, yet we are only now filing for those rights to the name. How can we? Do we wait for this to come through before signing this contract? trademark is

5. Indemnity. Considering Point's record, what if Point itself breaches the contract non-intentionally?

6. Waht paid advertising expceptions might prevent Point getting credit on the screen of the movie?

7. Give a for instance of how the catalog might be changed. What is "droit Moral?" Sounds like we would be allowing change of content that has its integrity. We have gotten the writers and editors to give rights to Point to publish their work. Thenwe woud ive them to Legacy, without some notice to those writers?

10. Assignment. What what constitute withholding? Legacy may assign its rights to anyone else provided that Tano remains a credited producer? Just his name on the film credits? It has to be clearer that that? Would have to maintain control Ithink.

Stillam not satisfied with the paragraph about conflict of interest, page 5.

- Include Tano's contract w/ Legacy as

Re: Electronic Rights Agent Agrteement

Legacy is to be sole agent for three years, but Legacy retains rights in perpetuity.

3. Compensation, page 2. Is the 15% to Legacy of the gross or net? Is the 2.5% of reveneus include the 15% that is paid to agent?

Re: draft letter from Legacy to Point regarding "bundling" of rights, and purchase price of rights

- PL to write up questions for Jaime
  - give to Jerry
- Taro to give up his ~~sheet~~ Contract on Legacy to est. ~~Credibility~~
- Bd gets clarity + has acknowledgement letter at Co.T to cover + states this is a good big decision
